Subject: HOSA Happenings- 7/17/25- Integrating HOSA in the Classroom

Good afternoon advisors!

As you prepare to come back to the classroom or begin a new cohort, I wanted you to be aware of many of the resources available to you that will help you integrate HOSA. As you know, HOSA should be intra-curricular. It is not an extracurricular “club” — it’s an intracurricular professional organization designed to enhance and elevate the health science classroom. When integrated effectively, HOSA reinforces what’s already being taught by connecting curriculum to real-world application, leadership development, and career preparation.

Think of HOSA as a classroom accelerator — not an add-on.

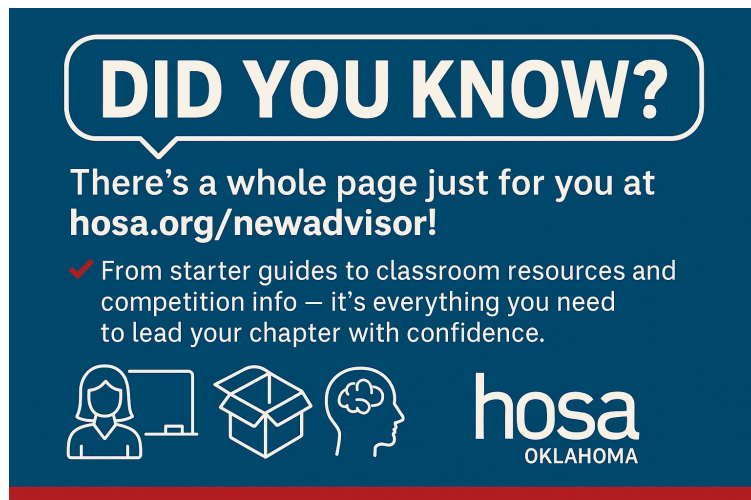

Did you know the HOSA website offers a dedicated page full of helpful resources specifically for new (and not-so-new!) HOSA advisors?

Whether you're just getting started or simply need a refresher, the New Advisor page includes tools and guides to support you throughout the year, such as:

- ✓ A roadmap for getting your chapter started
- ✓ HOSA branding and promotional materials
- ✓ Competition and event information
- ✓ Helpful videos and how-to guides
- ✓ Classroom-ready resources
- ✓ Advisor checklist and calendar
- ✓ And much more!

You don’t have to navigate your HOSA journey alone—this page is your one-stop shop for the support you need to help your students grow, lead, and thrive in health science education. Check it out here: hosa.org/newadvisor

Thank you for all you do to empower future health professionals!

DID YOU KNOW?

There’s a whole page just for you at hosa.org/newadvisor!

✓ From starter guides to classroom resources and competition info — it’s everything you need to lead your chapter with confidence.
